MAGGIE'S

The need for cancer support

The NHS provides excellent clinical care but their time is limited.

- What does this mean?
- How am I going to tell my friends, family, children?
- Am I going to die?
- Will I be able to work and pay the bills?
- How do I get back to normal now that I've finished treatment?

These challenges affect not only the person with cancer but their friends and family too.

- What do I say to my friend who has cancer as I'm worried I might upset him?

- Living with the after effects of cancer
- Emotional expression of the consequences of cancer
- Regaining self confidence and identity
- Living with uncertainty
- Sexuality and fertility
- Family communication and relationships
- Returning to work after cancer treatment
- Living positively with and beyond cancer

Who we support 2023

Maggie's Yorkshire is situated at St. James's University Hospital. Most of our visitors come from Leeds and Wakefield, and others come from York, Kirklees, and other areas throughout Yorkshire and the Humber.

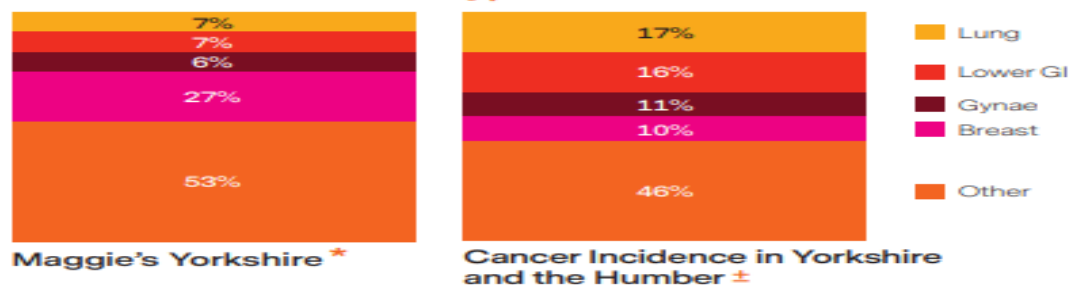

Age

Cancer type

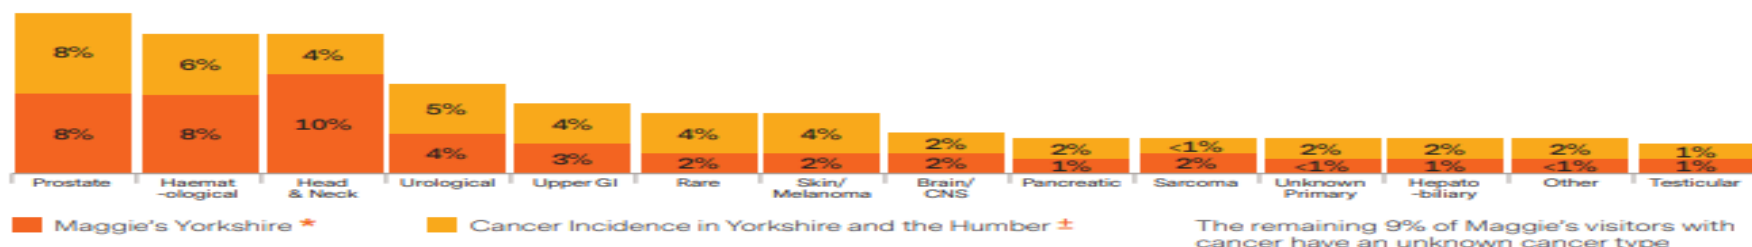

The chart below outlines the percentage of new people with cancer supported at Maggie's Yorkshire by cancer type in comparison to the national average as reported by Public Health England.

Most common cancer types

Maggie's Yorkshire is situated at St. James's University Hospital. 54% of new cancer diagnoses are lung, lower GI, gynaecological, and breast cancers. Of Maggie's Yorkshire visitors, 47% have one of these four most common types of cancer.

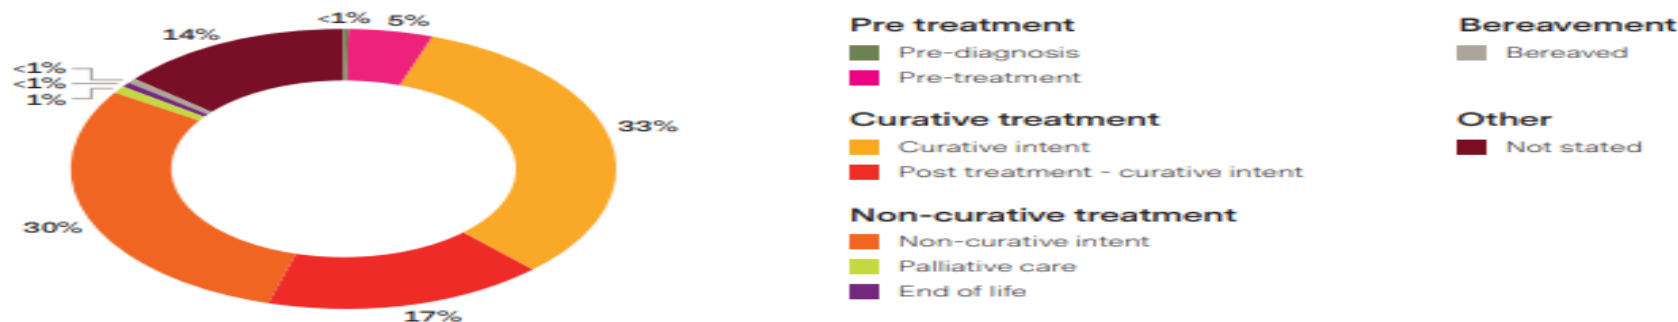

Other cancer types

The remaining 9% of Maggie's visitors with cancer have an unknown cancer type

Financial support 2023

Financial help claimed *

Our Benefit Advisors offer individual advice and support on the benefits that apply to people with cancer and their family and friends. In 2023, we helped Yorkshire visitors claim:

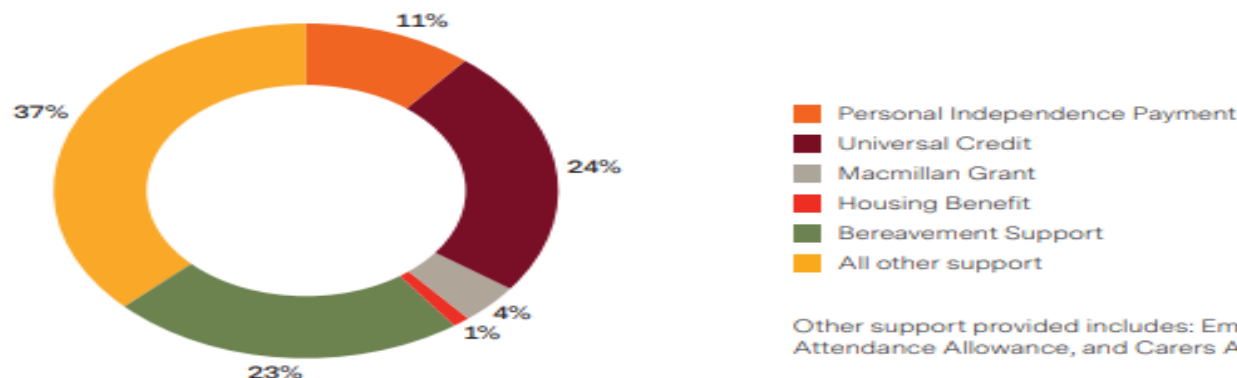

2023

£1.9million

2024

£2.3million

Last year, our Benefit Advisors helped our visitors access a wide range of benefits and other financial support:

Social value ±

Our social value measures the positive value that our Maggie's centre creates for the economy, community and society. It summarises the wider financial and non-financial value created through our day-to-day activities in terms of the economic, social and local wellbeing.

Social Value

£1.7million

Per annum

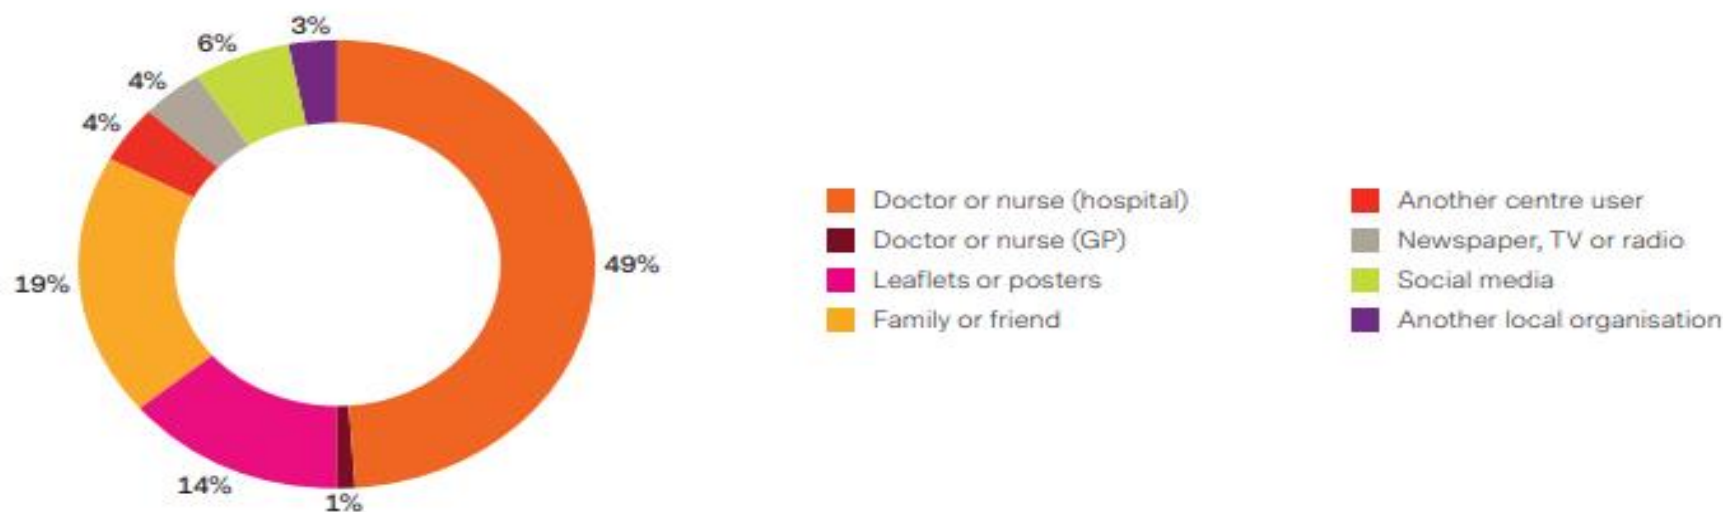

Cost:Benefit Ratio

1:3

For every £1 spent on Maggie's Yorkshire, £3 is given back in savings to the exchequer and in an increase in wellbeing.

How our visitors heard about us 2023 ^{*}

The majority of our visitors come to us following recommendations from their doctor or nurse, confirming the importance of our relationship with our NHS colleagues.

Visitor satisfaction ^{*}

Visitor feedback is important to us and each year we ask our visitors how helpful our care and support is.
